

Given the rains and mudflows that are occurring in Peru due to the El Niño Coastal phenomenon, which affects some regions of our country, LC PERÚ reports the following:

The touristic circuits of the south, which includes Cusco and Arequipa, have NOT been harmed. Nor also the region Nor Oriental (Amazon). The tourist activity in these regions develops normally: hotels, tourist services, airports and access to tourist attractions.

The main tourist attractions of the city of Lima are available for tourists.

The northern region, which includes the tourist destinations of the Route Moche (La Libertad and Lambayeque), the beaches of Piura and Tumbes and the region of Ancash, are affected by rains. The Peruvian government has been working with the population to assist the victims, rehabilitate roads and prevent future incidents.

LC PERÚ offers service for information and assistance to their passengers, which can be accessed by email at lcperu@intergsa.com or by telephone number 32 (02) 770 81 21.
