

Weekly Travel Industry Insight

MEXICAN TOURIST DESTINATIONS ENDANGERED BY CARTEL WARS

Mexican cartel wars are becoming a bigger and bigger problem for the country. Currently, violent incidents such as shootings are spreading even to the tourist destinations, for example Cancun.

Read More
on our website

CHILE: SPORTS TOURISM RECORDS 25% GROWTH

Sports tourism has been established as a growing trend in the world. The segment accounts for 25% of the tourism sector income, according to the World Travel & Tourism Council (WTTC).

Read More
on our website

OMAN TO INVEST IN CRUISE TOURISM TO DIVERSIFY THE ECONOMY

Oman plans to reduce their dependence on commodities such as oil by diversifying the economy. Tourism in general and cruise tourism in particular play a special role in the country.

Read More
on our website

MOROCCAN BUSINESS TRAVEL NEEDS MORE INVESTMENT

The Moroccan foreign exchange office's statistics show that the revenues from international business travel in the country amounted to 3.2 MMDH (about $US 350 000) in 2017, or barely 4.4% of the total tourist revenues...

Read More
on our website

PARIS CITY HALL FIGHTS AIRBNB AND WIMDU

New stage in the battle of tourist rental has come. The city of Paris announced recently to sue the platforms Airbnb as well as Wimdu, which according to the city hall "do not respect the law".

Read More
on our website

TOURISM DECLINE IN BARCELONA COSTS 6M EUROS EVERY DAY

Barcelona is the city with the largest amount of tours for wine tourism offered in Spain. Its proximity to the Penedés area, the interest and curiosity for the elaboration of cava, and its own tourist attractions...

Read More
on our website

GERMAN HOSPITALITY MARKET KEEPS EXPANDING

German hospitality stakeholders identify a specific trend of the sector. The number of hotels in Germany is decreasing, but the number of guest beds goes up. Nearly 700 new hotels are planned to be built in the...

Read More
on our website

VENETO REGION REGISTERED RECORD ARRIVALS IN 2017

Veneto's tourism industry is flourishing. According to official data, the number of arrivals in the Veneto region increased by 7.4%. The arrivals amounted to 19,172,576, while attendance reached 69,184,082. Based...

Read More
on our website

